Allied Warplanes Sink Three More Enemy Transports

Blast at Nipponese Sea-Borne Invaders In Battle of Java; Tokyo Acknowledges Heavy Air Attack On Part of United Nations

By ROGER D. GREENE, Associated Press War Editor.

Allied warplanes blasting at Japan's sea-borne invaders were credited officially today with sinking three big enemy transports in the critical battle for the Dutch East Indies, while a Tokyo spokesman acknowledged that 26 Japanese transports had been sunk or damaged to date in the far Pacific.

The spokesman, Commander Itaru Tashiro of the naval press section, said Japan expected even heavier losses because the United Nations had more than 1,000 planes in the war zone and 40 to 50 submarines.

SHUFFLE NEW DRAFT CARDS

Dutch headquarters acknowledged big-scale Japanese raids on the harbor and an air raid near Batavia, against naval objectives near Soerabaja and upon an air-drome near Bandoeng, but said the damage was slight.

Tokyo Claims Hits

Tokyo headquarters said Japanese bombers also scored direct hits on an alleged light cruiser and two 3,000-ton merchant ships.

In London, an official spokesman hinted that evacuation of British subjects from the embattled Indies to Australia may already have started, "particularly women and children who are not required locally for the war effort."

A bulletin from N. E. I. headquarters said United Nations planes sank two Japanese transports near Macassar, southern Celebes island, and a third elsewhere, and further attacked an air-drome near Japanese-occupied Palembang in lower Sumatra.

Jap Transports Afire

Japanese transports in Dili harbor, however, were reported afire and presumably this was a result of blows struck by the Dutch-Australian garrison of the Portuguese area or United Nations warplanes based on Australia or Java.

The Japanese gained a foothold in both the Dutch and Portuguese sections of Timor last week.

Japanese Raiders who Flew at 20,000 Feet Killed one Person and Injured five yesterday in dropping 70 bombs on Port Moresby, southern New Guinea island outpost less than 400 miles off the north tip of Australia, but were said to have caused no important damage to service buildings. This report was attacked again this afternoon.

CARRIER AT LISBON ESCAPES GAS FUMES

LISBON, Feb. 25.—Ray D. Thomson, 50, R. D. 1, Lisbon, mail carrier, had a narrow escape from possible injury or death yesterday afternoon when he was partially overcome by carbon monoxide fumes while driving on Route 30, just west of here.

Thomson lost control of his car when overcome by the fumes from a faulty exhaust.

A neighbor saw him stagger down the road after the car went into a ditch. A doctor was called and the mailman was removed to his home where he is recovering today.

DEPLORES PLIGHT OF AGRICULTURE

Chicago Board of Trade Advisor Addresses Farm Bureau

LISBON, Feb. 25.—Declaring that the loss of world markets is responsible for the alleged surplus in crops and stock, and the general predicament of the farmers today, Clarence Henry, educational advisor of the Chicago Board of Trade, told 125 persons attending the annual meeting of the Columbiana County Farm bureau in the Presbyterian church here Tuesday, that he could remember when "a big crop was regarded as a blessing from heaven instead of a political curse as it is today."

He pointed out that "the world is a smaller place now than Ohio was 125 years ago, due to modern communications and modes of travel, and hence we cannot set up trade barriers isolating our country without serious consequences."

Henry congratulated the Ohio Farm bureau on the work which it is carrying on independent of outside aid, and likened the steps of the political-agricultural agencies to procedures that have resulted in absolute government domination at agriculture in Germany, adding that aid through these agencies sets up a priority for government programs.

Recalling the slogan that "food will win the war and write the peace," Henry advocated the reopening of the world markets as a means of bringing back permanent prosperity, of stopping the further receding of the standard of living, and for the establishment of permanent peace as nations would not be seeking to gain possession of colonies if world markets were reopened.

LISBON BOARD O.K.'S TWO NEW CAR SALES

LISBON, Feb. 25.—The local rationing board at a meeting Tuesday approved applications releasing two new cars purchased before Jan. 1, the first dispensed since the ban on the sales of new cars became effective.

The cars, both sedans, were released to R. R. Kiefer, W. Lincoln who purchased his car in Philadelphia, prior to locating here, and to Robert Dillon, Lee ave., who purchased his car from a Salem dealer.

The board also received an application for four tires, from Sam Pappas, garbage collector, who stated all four tires on his truck "went to pieces" Tuesday morning.

While some consideration may be given the case, Graham Kearney, chairman, stated the board is powerless, however, as all tires for Lisbon, for February, have been allocated.

Must Have Licenses

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The war department announced today that seven American pursuit planes intercepted a formation of nine Japanese bombers protected by 14 fighting planes over Java, turning back the enemy craft and shooting down one Japanese bomber and one fighter plane.

In the Philippines, the department's communique said, small groups of General Douglas MacArthur's forces were uniformly successful in aggressive local actions as sharp encounters occurred all along the line in Bataan.

The communique, No. 123 of the war, said "there is nothing to report from other areas."

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts), Feb. 25.—The navy ministry announced today that Rear Admiral Shusaku Shibuya had been killed in action Feb. 14 off Borneo.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The navy announced today that the Norwegian freighter Blink had been torpedoed by an enemy submarine off the Atlantic coast.

No details of the torpedoing were made available. The announcement said merely, "The Blink, a Norwegian freighter, has been torpedoed by an enemy submarine off the Atlantic coast, the navy department today announced."

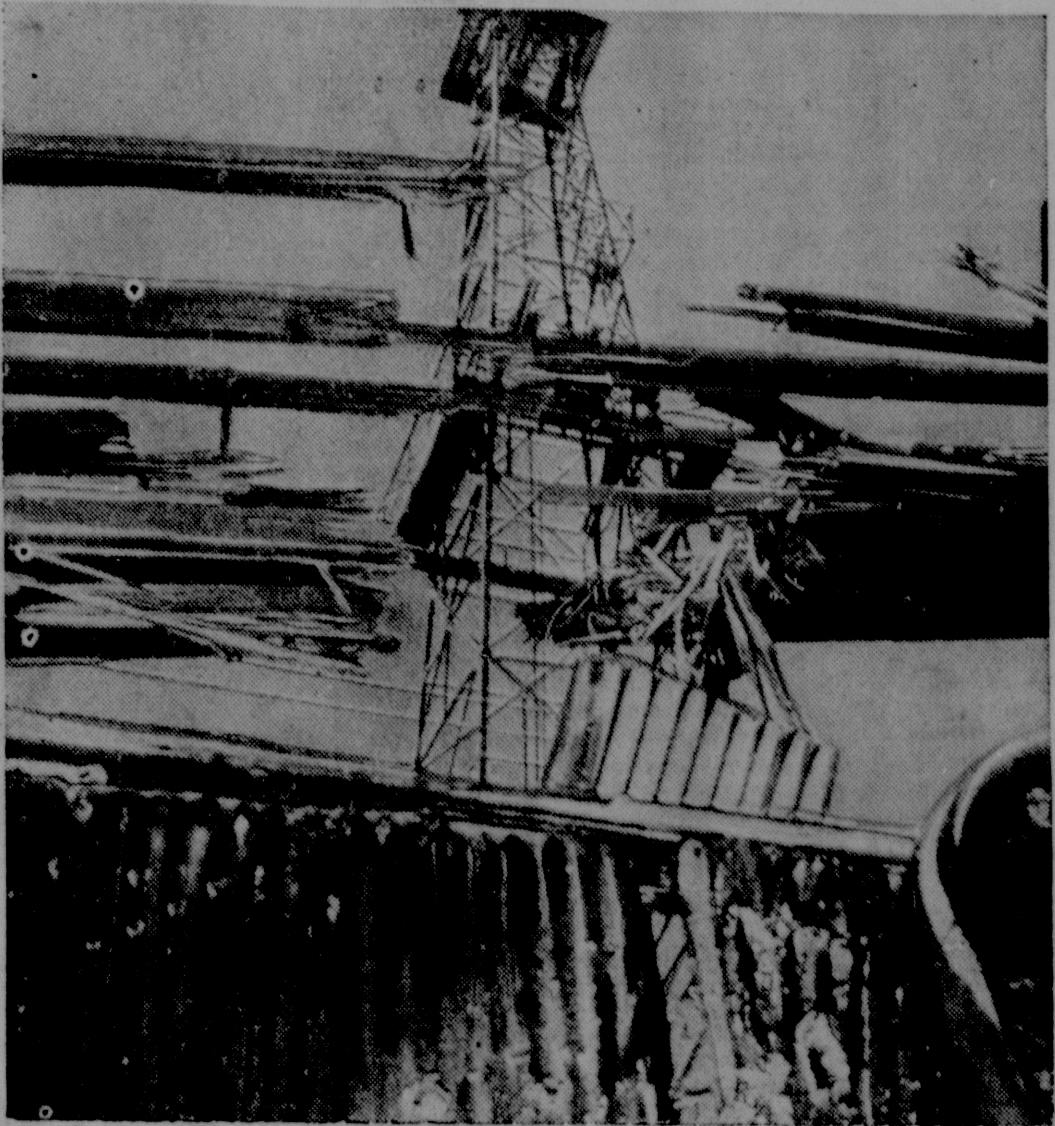

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 25.—Thirty Japanese fighter planes were destroyed today, according to an official announcement. The announcement did not say whether the planes were shot down in the air or destroyed on the ground.

CANBERRA, Australia, Feb. 25.—Australian bombers, striking at an encroaching rim of Japanese lodgments in islands 400 to 500 miles north and northwest of Australia, attacked both Rabaul and Timor last night, a Royal Australian Air Force communique announced today.

The attack on Timor followed the observation of large Japanese naval forces in the vicinity of Dili, capital of the northern, or Portuguese, portion of Timor, and the report that Japanese transports in Dili harbor were burning.

Dili, about 450 miles northwest of severely bombed Darwin, had been occupied by allied forces until Japanese launched an invasion.

Oil Refinery Shack Suffers Hit In Submarine Attack

The splintered roof of this shack at the Elwood, Calif., oil refineries, marks the spot where the first enemy shell in this war landed on continental United States. The Japanese submarine responsible for the attack blasted at targets along the coast of Santa Barbara in an almost leisurely fashion, staying on the surface until darkness shrouded it from view.

WARNS AMERICANS TO 'WORK OR FIGHT'

Drastic Legislation Is Seen To Halt Stoppages In Production

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Drastic "work or fight" legislation may soon be sought by the administration to give the war labor board a strong hand in its task of eliminating all stoppages in arms production.

An informed source predicted today that this request to congress was likely, and indications were that it would command strong support especially since President Roosevelt called on Americans in his Monday night radio address not to stop work a single day.

Proposals for such legislation were said to have originated with officials charged with responsibility for all-out war production. President Roosevelt has repeatedly stressed the need for uninterrupted production in numerous speeches during the past year, but the arms program nevertheless has lost hundreds of thousands of man-hours because of labor-management, jurisdictional and other controversies.

Under tentative plans, workers not subject to the selective service law would be required to work or fight. As outlined by one influential Democratic senator, the legislation probably would include provisions for the immediate drafting into the armed forces of any striking worker who was subject to military service because of employment in an essential war job.

Members were seated in committees with others on the various groups, which were announced as follows: Ways and means, Misses Ella Stamp, Nora Greenawalt, Nellie Cowan, Blanche Kyle and Mrs. John Doult; membership, Misses Alice Gladden, Nellie Miller, Juanita Swartz, Mrs. Alton Bye and Mrs. Laura Conrad; girls service, Mrs. W. ## MUSIC WEEK TO AID NATIONAL DEFENSE

The 1942 observance of National Music week next month will be closely allied with the national defense program and with the movement to more closely unite all North and South American nations.

In a statement issued by C. M. Tremaine, secretary of the national and inter-American music week committee, from the committee's office in New York, it was announced that all the anti-Axis nations, as well as the Latin American republics, are invited to participate with this country in the observance.

The celebration, in honor of music as the most democratic of the arts, will be held this year May 3 to 10. The dates mark the 15th consecutive annual observance on a nation-wide basis.

Plan Mandamus Action

EAST LIVERPOOL, Feb. 25.—Undaunted by a supreme court ruling against additional revenue for the 1941 tax year, the board of education today instructed City Solicitor Carroll P. Lynch to file a mandamus action against the Columbiana county commissioners in a new move to increase the 1942 school levy from 3.5 mills to 4.236 mills.

CONTINUE SEARCH FOR WASTE PAPER

School children were continuing their search today for waste paper, magazines, newspapers, paper bags, etc., to haul to the public and parochial school buildings, collection centers for the Salvage for Victory campaign being conducted by the Salem council of Civilian Defense.

The youngsters are enthusiastic and dead earnest about this business—so much so that at some homes several sets of youthful collectors appeared yesterday. Many other homes, in fact entire streets, were missed yesterday and so the effort was being continued today.

Those who have waste papers to contribute and who have not been contacted by the school children are urged to advise the teachers of the nearest school building. Arrangements then will be made to collect the material.

Quota Committees For Year Are Named

TARGET NOT IDENTIFIED BY ARMY HEADS

No Bombs Were Dropped and No Airplanes Were Shot Down

LOS ANGELES AREA CITIES DARKENED

"Slow - Moving Object" Makes Way Down Coast From Santa Monica

(By Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—No bombs were dropped and no planes were shot down during the anti-aircraft firing in the Los Angeles area early today, the western defense command announced.

"Cities in the Los Angeles area were blacked out at 2:25 a. m. today on orders from the 4th interceptor command when unidentified aircraft were reported in the area," the western defense command said.

"Although reports are conflicting and every effort is being made to ascertain the facts, it is clear that no bombs were dropped and no planes were shot down."

"There was a considerable amount of anti-aircraft firing. The all-clear signal came at 7:21 a. m."

Target Still a Secret

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Anti-aircraft guns thundered over the metropolitan area early today for the first time in the war, but, hours later, what they were shooting at remained a military secret.

An unidentified object moving slowly down the coast from Santa Monica was variously reported as a balloon and an airplane.

Some observers claimed to have seen two planes over the beach. Army intelligence, through an uncommunicative, scoffed at reports of civilian observers that as many as 200 planes were over the area. Anti-aircraft guns fired round after round of ammunition and tracer bullets at the unidentified object which appeared south of the rich Signal Hill oil fields.

Army officials declined to comment but speculated quickly arose that an enemy blimp might have passed over the area. This was based on the fact the object required nearly 30 minutes to travel some 20 or 25 miles—far slower than an airplane.

An official source which declined to be quoted directly told the Associated Press that U. S. army planes quickly went into action. However, just before dawn, another official said no U. S. craft had gone in pursuit, because of danger from their own anti-aircraft fire. He said anti-aircraft gunners reported seeing unidentified planes.

No bombs were dropped. The all-clear sound came at 7:19 a. m. (10:19 a. m. EWT).

Three Japanese Arrested

Police at Venice, 14 miles west on the coast, arrested three Japanese for investigation of reports they were sending flashlight signals from the pier. Venice is just outside an area ordered evacuated of Japanese yesterday.

A newspaperman at San Pedro said airplanes passed over the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor area, the craft were not identified.

There were no reports of an attempt to bomb this area from the air although many war-vital factories, shipyards and other defense industries are on the route the object followed.

Although some watchers said they saw airplanes in the air, semi-official sources said they probably were the U. S. army's pursuits.

All of the action, clearly spotlighted for ground observers by 20 or 30 searchlights, was just a few miles from Los Angeles proper.

Observers said the object appeared to be 8,000 feet or higher.

Charge Overloading

Four truckers were arrested at the Edinburg scales yesterday by Salem state highway patrolmen on charges of driving overloaded vehicles.

The defendants, Lee Verner, 33, and William Long, 25, of Painesville; David Morehouse, 26, of Akron, and Louis Granat, 29, of New Castle, were fined $20 and costs each by Justice of the Peace Gardner at Edinburg.

Continues Fight

COLUMBUS, Feb. 25.—Edward L. Smith of Cleveland, whose request that workers' compensation payments to state employees be stopped was turned down by the Ohio supreme court, has filed a similar action in common pleas court. Smith contends the legislature failed to provide sufficient funds for the payments.

FIRST LADY'S LAST WORD

Mrs. Roosevelt has gone out of her way to confirm the suspicion that the aesthetic dancers and tub thumpers have beaten a strategic retreat from civilian defense, but have no intention of surrendering. The first lady, their sponsor, makes it plain that she isn't conceding a thing. It's the age-old fight, she explains, "the fight for the privileged few against the good of the many." She resigned from OCD only to divert criticism from it, not because she recognized any justice in the criticism.

The dickens of it is, the other side thought the fight was about the few and the many, too. Under the guise of civilian defense, which was for the benefit of the many, a privileged few had been set down in cushy spots where their job was to do things that had about as much relation to civilian defense as folk dancing has to tree pruning. To Mrs. Roosevelt, however, this was all for the benefit of the many. It all depends on where you stand to look at it.

From where something like 125,000,000 Americans are standing (the rest are working for the government) it looks as though the only way to assist the many is to keep brushing leeches and papsuckers off the body politic. The only way they know "to help the people" is first to create a government job to support them. Given the slightest encouragement, they would bankrupt the nation with their kindness.

INDIA'S ALL OR NOTHING

What is supposed to be India's ability to drive a hard bargain with Great Britain for political independence doesn't hold up well under scrutiny. India's sole hope of independence is tied to Japan's defeat, not to what a corporal's guard of politicians may decide in London.

If India were to make the ghastly mistake of refusing to help Britain fight because of disagreement about its political status, there would be no more room for disagreement. When the Japanese took over, as they certainly would try to do, Indian independence would be nothing but a faded dream. India's highly deliberative political leaders would play no more chess games with the British government. They would play with Tokyo, which has been inclined to shoot politicians who couldn't agree.

All this, no doubt, is much plainer to the men on the spot than it is to anyone in the United States—which should help the United States not to make the mistake of thinking the Indians have perfidious Albion over a barrel. The situation as of today is that perfidious Japan has both of them over a barrel.

JOKER OR WHAT?

The press may be accused of seeing things under the bed, but herewith is the text of a bill that has been placed under the bed for all to see:

"Section 1: Whoever, without authority, shall willfully and knowingly furnish, communicate, divulge, or publish to any person, in whole or in part, copies of the contents, substance, purport, effect, or meaning of any file, instrument, letter, memorandum, book, paper, pamphlet, document, manuscript, map, picture, plan, record, or other writing in the custody of the United States, or of any agency, officer, or employee thereof, declared to be secret or confidential by statute, or declared to be secret or confidential by any rule or regulation of any department or agency of the United States of which he has knowledge or which has been published in the code of federal regulations or in the Federal Register shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned for not more than two years, or both."

The bill further provides that an official may authorize disclosures if he chooses, which seems to mean that unless they were authorized, all federal jobholders helping out newspapermen on stories would be subject to fine and imprisonment. Undoubtedly, that is not the purpose of the bill. It could be the effect, however. And the effect of legislation, as many have discovered to their sorrow too late, is more important than the purpose.

OFFICIAL STATUS FOR MAPS

President Roosevelt's request that his countrymen have maps available to help them follow his report on world strategy in the war gave official status to the new importance of cartography. Newspapers, which have been using maps increasingly to present the running story of World War II, have realized for a long time that geography had come resoundingly into its rightful place as an essential subject. Ever since the aggressor nations put into effect their world strategy for conquest, the news has been a continuous class in geography.

The division known as economic geography has assumed special interest. Those often neglected parts of the geography lesson that covered products of the various countries are as vital now as the information about topography. The Germans have converted economic facts into a thing known as geo-politics, which attempts to organize the areas of the world according to their ability to support nations. It is not happenstance that makes Americans acutely conscious of Java and Sumatra and Dakar and the Aleutians, but economic necessity.

The pocket dictionary is more important than ever before, if it happens to have a few pagefuls of maps in the back.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, February 26.

RATHER mediocre stellar operations point to a routine day, with affairs moving in customary grooves. The general trend of events may lie in the direction of the attainment of pleasure, or whatever caters to the ease and gratification of life, with little inciting ambitions in other directions. In this easy way there is danger of extravagance and overdoing, with careless or lavish hand, leading to future regret. Try to spur the ambitions into more practical or lucrative fields.

Those whose birthday it is may find the year beset with urges to the pursuit of pleasure, rather than into channels of creative, practical and lucrative returns. The lure to extravagance, over-indulgence and excesses may have reactions of regret and inability to make ends meet.

A child born on this day will be disposed to take life as it comes, with inclinations and instincts bent upon the pursuit of pleasure. Its substance may come easy and go easy unless it is given early lessons in thrift.

NAZI ECONOMICS CRIPPLED

BERN, Switzerland, Feb. 25.—The devastating effect of Russia's scorched earth policy, serious labor shortages, and the flight of thousands of potential workers before the German army, were reported today to have crippled Germany's attempts to gear the economy of occupied Russian areas to that of the reich.

The German press has complained of hardships and difficulties created by the Russian scorched earth policy.

The newspapers said also that in some areas more than 50 per cent of the population departed with the Russian army, taking most of the horses, tractors and other implements, and that in Dnieperpetrovsk alone 200,000 of a total population of 380,000 left the city.

Those leaving usually are described by the Germans as being "taken away" by the Russians.

The Nazis also complained about the number "taken away" from the Baltic states. They have issued a decree providing for compulsory service of doctors, dentists, druggists, nurses and members of auxiliary medical branches in the Baltic states.

In the Ukraine, the Deutsche Ukraine Zeitung said, the agricultural situation is difficult because the Russians "killed or removed the best workers" and because of a great shortage of equipment.

In Bessarabia, the labor shortage was said to be so great that even the Rumanian population has been conscripted for farm work. A new decree ordered all persons between the ages of 12 and 60 to work on the farms from "sunrise to sundown."

The Budapest newspaper Pester Lloyd said that in fismembered Yugoslavia Serb guerrillas had caused a shortage of bread in Belgrade by locking communications.

Coffee Best Known Type, Says Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. YESTERDAY in pursuing the series of essays to explain the scientific knowledge of the action of drugs, we referred to the drugs which act by producing changes directly in the nervous system. We said that another great group of drugs acted by changing the mass or flow of blood in a part. We wish to consider today this second group of drugs.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Coffee is perhaps the best example. Coffee has well-known effects which everyone recognizes. It keeps you awake; it increases the flow of urine; it stimulates a feeling of well-being. It also has an action which you cannot feel, which is to stimulate the tone of the heart. It does all these things by increasing the flow of blood to a part.

Coffee has little, if any stimulating effect directly on the brain, but by increasing the blood flow to the brain, it produces mental activity, wakefulness and sleeplessness. The same thing occurs in the kidneys. They are overactive with coffee simply because more blood goes to them. The same thing occurs in the heart. The blood flow in the heart muscle is improved with coffee.

Effects Of Tobacco

Tobacco, we said yesterday, was a typically habitually used drug whose effects are mostly due to the changes it makes in blood vessels. Opposite from coffee, it causes a spasm of certain blood vessels, for instance blood vessels in the heart, so that people who have angina are generally enjoined to give up smoking. They are overactive with functional angina in some young people. Tobacco also causes a form of blindness, or amblyopia, which is temporary. This is largely effected by causing a spasm of the artery of the eye.

Another group of drugs acts in this way, but in an intermediate LENTEN REDUCING DIET By Dr. Clendening For Thursday—850 calories. Really reduces, is balanced satisfying.

Breakfast. One glass tomato juice (Vitamin C—25 calories); 1 slice toast—no butter (75 calories); 1 cup coffee—no cream or sugar.

Lunch. One chicken sandwich on toast (150 calories); 1 glass milk (vitamins, minerals, protein—160 calories); ½ grapefruit (vitamins A, B, C—50 calories).

Dinner. One broiled frankfurter (150 calories); 1 cup sauerkraut (40 calories—Vitamin A, B, C, roughage); 1 canned peach (100 calories); 1 small cup black coffee.

fashion by causing a spasm or a dilation of the blood vessels. Thus the action of adrenalin and amyl nitrate are antagonistic. Adrenalin causes a spasm of most of the blood vessels, also a rise in blood pressure. After a good dose, the patient will be very pale due to spasm of the blood vessels of the face. It is therefore a good medicine to use in shock where you have a condition of low blood pressure and relaxation of the blood vessels.

Amyl Nitrate Amyl nitrate relaxes all the small sized blood vessels, and lowers the blood pressure. Under full sized dosage it will be seen that the face is red and the patient can feel the blood vessels in the head throbbing. Thus it is a good drug to use when there is spasm, such as angina of the heart and in conditions where cold causes excessive spasm of the blood vessels of the hands and feet. It can be readily understood that with the intelligent and skillful use of these and other drugs, a great variety of physiological changes can be made in the body and a great variety of diseased conditions can be rectified.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

W. A. F. — "Are there any ill effects from eating food cooked in aluminum ware?"

Answer: No.

W. R. — "In your opinion what is the value of whooping cough shots? I have heard so many different opinions on the subject." Answer: I think the fact that there are so many different opinions indicates that the real value of whooping cough shots has not been entirely settled. They undoubtedly prevent whooping cough in a certain number of cases, but they are not absolutely sure, as in the case of diphtheria and typhoid. Therefore I would say that it is optional with the parent whether or not the child should have them.

"THURSDAY'S CHILD" by VERA BROWN
FROM THE OLD RHYME: "THURSDAY'S CHILD HAS FAR TO GO"

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO

Rene came to take them to his room at noon. He led them with much pomp where the Countess was waiting.

Dressed in stiff black silk, she sat in state, a dour woman with brilliant black eyes like Rene's, and a grim smile, as they were to discover shortly.

"Welcome," she said.

Sonny was glad her French was adequate. But she explained she had not been speaking it long.

The Countess was complimentary. She made them welcome. Her eyes gleamed when she said that she had left her son and it was plain she adored him. And no wonder. He was very deferential to her, and Sonny liked him much better here, in his home, than she had before.

Luncheon was a formal affair. Rene commented on the new butler, an old man.

The Countess's face was suddenly bleak. "Jacques was called to his regiment," she said.

Sonny's eyes were on her face. "What will be war?"

The Countess shrugged her shoulders. "It is very difficult these days. I have lived through two wars. I can live through another."

She did not add that the last one had taken her husband from her. But she suddenly seemed old and tired. Sonny's heart went out to her.

When luncheon had ended, Countess de Duvergey rose. "Come with me, my dear," she addressed Sonny. "We must get better acquainted."

Meekly Sonny followed the dowager to her sitting-room.

The Countess settled herself with Sonny's help in a deep chair before an infinitesimal fire in the huge fireplace.

"Now come, sit here."

Leslie sat down near Rene's. Sonny sat in a chair placed so that she might look on her face. The old woman scrutinized her for a long time, quite openly.

"I like you," she said at last.

A little taken back, Sonny was a loss for words.

"Are you in love with my son?"

Something in the old woman's manner demanded a similar non-jury.

"I'm not sure. I like him, tremendously."

"Good. An excellent basis for marriage. Love, my child, is a delusion. You Americans are prone to rant it. I might say it is an American illusion based, I am afraid, largely on your moving pictures. I think you would fit in here with me. I am a pretty spoiled old woman and I want my own way. I am devoted to my son. Most of all, I want his happiness."

She smiled a little quizzically as she added: "I think you need supervision. I could give that. Life here is very difficult from that which you know. We live by different standards. But we have found through the centuries that they are excellent. Divorce is unheard of in our family; not that we are any tapper for it, but we are much more secure. That, as you grow older, becomes of paramount importance. What is ahead of us today, we do not know, but we have faith in the future."

The Countess paused. When she spoke again it was to ask: "You are much money?"

"Yes."

"But you're very young."

"I have a guardian."

"That may complicate things."

"I think he will agree to what we plan, I make."

"Good. Now we can dismiss that for the present. As yet, you do not know how you are going to like us. How we are going to like you." Her smile took the harshness from her words. "But tell me about yourself, child."

"There isn't much to tell," Sonny began. "I'm nobody, or was nobody back home until I married."

She gave a brief outline of her life with the Hollisters. It was clear to the Countess that the family could not be sorry to see the last of the young woman who sat talking so seriously.

"It would probably be a good thing if you stayed on here, good for everybody," the Countess summed things up.

"I feel sure it would," Sonny tried to keep the bitterness out of her voice.

"But your own family?"

"I barely remember my mother, my father not at all."

Sonny could not bring herself to speak of her fosterfather.

The Countess accepted what she said, reading astutely between the lines. A little plebeian blood would not hurt her family, she thought. And the girl was very lovely.

And so ended the first interview. Afterward they settled down into a quiet routine. Martha almost lost her mind. She managed to escape each morning and afternoon for long walks, to go on shopping expeditions, have grand but lonely luncheons in various gay restaurants.

As for Sonny, she and Rene played tennis or he took her to call on his friends. Now and then they dined out with Martha. But when they did, they came home discreetly early and Rene often went out again alone, afterward.

Martha, watching Sonny, thought she appeared almost drugged with the existence. The Countess seemed to have complete power over her. Martha protested to Sonny, but the latter only shook her head. "I want to be sure, I'm happy here. She accepts me, I'm safe."

"It is insanity, Leslie. You'd break away in six months."

"No, this is what I want. Security and quiet."

Late in May, the first American clipper arrived from the States. Sonny heard the roar of its great motors and rushed out into the garden to watch as it swung over Paris. It was so low, she could see the American flag on the wings quite clearly. The sight filled her with longing for home, and tears came into her eyes.

The Clipper brought plenty of mail for Sonny. There was a letter from Carol, saying:

"I'm being hopelessly spoiled and I love it. You'd think no body ever had a baby before. But what about yourself? I hear there is a real count who is rushing you. It's been in the columns several times."

"Are you ever coming home? I hate to think of you over there for always. Is there much war talk? The papers are full of it here."

"Kirk and Dick are working hard on a reorganization of the bank. Janice often comes to have dinner with mother and me when the men were kept in town."

"I'm terribly happy because of you."

The letters from home made Leslie quiet and thoughtful. Martha noted, and she was hopeful. But in a few days Sonny seemed to have forgotten.

One night, Rene took Sonny to the opera, chaperoned by Martha. From there they went to a night club. Watching some American tourists making merry, Rene remarked, "Terrible, aren't they?"

Sonny came to their defense with "They're really nice, Rene. But they don't know how to play. They've probably worked hard all their lives and never had much fun and that's what Paris means to them."

"But this is not Paris—" Rene's voice was full of scorn.

"No, I love your Paris—" Rene. But I understood this, too."

His voice was brusque as he added: "I wish you didn't. It makes you seem very foreign."

Sonny was laughing at him. "You're afraid of losing me!"

He denied it, but her astuteness amused him. "Mother's teaching you a lot. She's very wise. What about it, Leslie? Do you think you can be happy here?"

"I'm sure I can."

When they got home, Rene asked Sonny to talk with him for a while. They went into the big, cold sitting room.

"I think we should be married this summer," Rene said, coming straight to the point. "I may be away," he stopped.

"You mean the war may come?"

"Yes. It is better that we do not delay. I have talked it over with mother. Do you think I should write your guardian?"

"I think it would be wise for me to pave the way, Rene. I can handle the situation better. Then you can write when I've explained things."

He was satisfied with that.

When Sonny went up stairs, she tapped on Martha's door. The latter admitted her, and Sonny gazed in amazement. Clothes were spread all over the room!

"What in the world are you doing?" asked the girl.

"I'm packing," Martha explained. "I've been meaning to tell you. I can't stand this. Besides you don't need me any more. I'm going home, sailing in five days. I've written Kirk. Sonny, this is an impossible life for any American woman."

Sonny was speechless. The thought of Martha's desertion frightened her.

"Come with me, darling. Please! Leave this place. You can't live on here! I know it!"

Go home? Sonny's heart contracted. But she had no home. There was nothing for her back there.

"I'm staying," she said.

New Auto Licenses Available March 2

The 1942 Ohio automobile tags will go on sale at the Salem office of the Columbiana County Motor club Monday, March 2, and they may be attached to cars at that time is the owner desires.

Supplies of the green and white plates are now on hand.

A. P. Morris, manager of the auto club, also disclosed that the organization has received a supply of new commercial truck and trailer plates for distribution at the club's East Liverpool office. Applications will be taken here. This year's stock includes a supply of farm license tags which, in the past, were mailed direct from Columbus.

The arrangements are part of a new plan being instituted by Cy Wallace, state registrar, whereby each county will have one distributing agency. This is designed to eliminate considerable delay in owner's having to wait on plates mailed from Columbus. Daily service on truck plates will be maintained between Salem and East Liverpool, Morris said.

All applicants for truck licenses must present their title at the time application is made and the owner must personally sign application before a notary public. If the truck was licensed last year and the weight has not been changed, no weight card will be necessary.

If, however, the truck weight has been changed or truck was not licensed during 1941, it will be necessary to present a 1942 weight card when making application. Registration fees remain the same.

Travelers Hear Interesting Discussion On Swedish Art

A delightful and interesting talk on Swedish art was presented for Travelers club members and their guests yesterday at the library assembly room by Mrs. W. Moirel Røller of Youngstown.

A native of Sweden, where she spent her childhood, she came to the United States in 1902.

She spoke of the contributions to America by the Swedish people in art, history, inventions, industry, commerce and legend. The truly representative art of a country, she pointed out, is the folk art, which in Sweden, freely developed and has been carefully preserved by a number of societies which teach the crafts and techniques of making the beautiful products.

Mrs. Røller described the development of Swedish textiles, patterns of which are handed down from generation to generation, each parish and locality carefully retaining the patterns peculiar to it. She discussed the other crafts, including the metal, wood, glass, china, pottery, working, the architecture, painting and sculpture.

A part of her extensive collection of art pieces was on display and the speaker explained the origin, significance and preservation of the patterns and substance of the articles.

Following the program, Mrs. Charles McCorkhill and her social committee served tea and Swedish pastries. Mrs. L. P. Metzger and Mrs. Ina Yengling presided at the beautifully arranged table, lighted by white tapers in crystal holders and centered by a crystal eagle in a "V for Victory" formed of red carnations in small crystal glasses.

The committee in charge included Miss Edith Campbell, Mrs. George W. Bunn, Mrs. Luella Harris, Mrs. Burr Leeper, Mrs. A. O. Silver, Mrs. R. E. Smucker, Mrs. R. A. Lamont of Alliance, Mrs. J. K. Yagel, Mrs. William Silver.

A special program is planned for the meeting March 3.

Mothers Hear Talk by Juvenile Worker

Experiences in her activities as a juvenile court worker in Lisbon were recounted by Mrs. Lenna Scherland at a meeting of the Progressive Mothers circle at the home of Mrs. L. L. Lehman, N. Union ave., Tuesday night.

Speaking on "The Problem Child," Mrs. Scherland declared that statistics compiled by workers show that 67 per cent of problem children come from drinking parents and 93 per cent of them from homes broken by separation or divorce.

"Problem children are direct results of 'problem parents,'" the worker asserted. She discussed the excellent work being done by the juvenile department of the county, work which is being seriously hampered and curtailed because of lack of funds due to the defeat of the three mill county levy.

Work of the Fairmount Children's home and its activities and of the juvenile research bureau in Columbus were described. The bureau is maintained for the study of problem children who are taken there, given mental, physical, psychological and other tests during an eight weeks' period to determine the cause to be followed to return the child to normalcy in behavior and attitude.

The next meeting will be held March 10 at the home of Mrs. C. G. Meeks, E. Pershing st., where Mrs. A. V. Smith will be in charge of the program topic, "The Child's Relation to the Family and Friends."

During the business meeting a report of last year's work of the Welfare Unit was presented by Mrs. Charles Hanlon, secretary of the circle. Plans were discussed for a benefit which will provide the mothers' club contribution to the welfare unit.

report of a conference of presidents of clubs in the Sixth Quota district which she attended in Akron last weekend.

A resolution of respect was read in tribute to the late Miss Martha Wire, a founder of the organization. One copy of the resolution will be sent to the family and one will be placed in club records.

The president announced tentative plans for the program this year, which will include at least one inter-city Quota party and a party at which other service clubs of the city will be entertained.

Plans for increasing the scholarship fund, by which the club extends aid to girls who wish to further their education in college, nursing and other special schools, were discussed.

Members brought books to the meeting which will be sent to the military camps throughout the nation.

Piano Duo In Final Concert Program

Fray and Braggiotti, outstanding duo-pianists, will present a concert at 8:30 p. m. Friday, March 20, at the Salem High school auditorium as the final number in the series sponsored by the Northern Columbiana County Concert association.

Members of the concert association will attend. Others may make arrangements for tickets through Mrs. E. E. Dyball, association secretary, or members.

The internationally famous pair pioneered against the flat treatment of two piano music as exemplified in the two-piano works of even the great composers and developed a rich, orchestral treatment of their own. They are the first, and, as yet, only team to present a full evening's program of original transcriptions. They perform rarely heard compositions as well as the more familiar works of composers including the best modern numbers. Believing that both classical and popular music should be given to audiences, their programs are widely varied, colorful and appealing.

Scenes Near Santa Barbara Area Where Axis Submarine Shelled Oil Field

Scene of shelling

At the very instant President Roosevelt was delivering his fireside chat to the nation, an enemy submarine, presumably Japanese, rose to the surface a mile off the California coast and poured 25 shells from a five-inch deck gun at the oil fields, refineries and

Ohio Receives Funds

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Ohio has been allotted $139,433 for aid to the blind and $638,112 for aid to dependent children for January, February and March, the social security board announced. The board said an allotment for old age assistance would be made as soon as estimates are received from Ohio (In Columbus State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood said estimates would be completed in a few days, but that mailing of checks to pensioners would not be delayed.)

FITZPATRICK FIVE EXTENDS TROTTERS BUT LOSES, 61-56

Herb Brown Scores 22 In Tight Fray; McKinley Cops Preliminary

A "hot" Fitzpatrick's Service five kept the world-famous Globe Trotters from displaying their usual clowning brand of basketball last night on the Salem High court as they extended the colored stars to the limit before bowing out in the face of a furious last quarter spurt by their opponents, 61-56.

Paced by Herb Brown, High school cage mentor, who tallied 22 points, the locals kept the Globe Trotters going at top speed throughout the full course of the 40-minute battle. With Brown and Kenny Shears hitting the rim for seven and six, respectively, in the opening period, the locals kept themselves in the fray as the visitors matched them shot for shot to deadlock the count just before the period ended, 19-19.

Bill Schaeffer tallied five to help the cause. Johnny Watts, Pettigrew and Carter tallied the majority of the Globe Trotters' total in the initial frame.

Pace Slows Down

The pace slowed down a little in the second stanza, but the Fitzpatrick outfit outscored the Negro five to take a 31-27 lead at the intermission. Herb Brown again led the attack with six points. In the third period the Globe Trotters took a slight lead and began to flash their dazzling passing game, which was soon ended by numerous interceptions by the local stars. Each team scored 16 markers in this period and the score stood 47-43 in favor of Fitzpatrick's at the end of the third quarter. Amos Dunlap led the Salem attack in the third chapter with six points and Carter tallied the same number for the Globe Trotters.

Johnny Watts, captain of the visiting five, turned on the heat in the last quarter as he tallied 12 of his 23-point total to lead his team to a hard-earned win. The Salem team tallied only nine points as the Globe Trotters began to check their men closer, refusing to give them an open shot.

Watts took individual scoring honors with 23 points, while Herb Brown chalked up 22 to pace the locals. Carter also looked good for the Trotters as he tallied 17. Bill Schaeffer took runnerup honors for the locals with 12.

McKinley Victor

In a preliminary between the McKinley champions and a sixth grade all-star combine, the McKinley five scored a 23-17 victory after leading by 5-3 at the first quarter and 7-9 at the intermission. They enjoyed a big spree in the third quarter when they scored 12 points. Mayhew and Chesney paced the winners with eight points apiece, tallied on one-hand shots from down near the foul circle, while Clott, Faulkner and Hanna looked good for the stars. Clott took high point honors with six points, tallied on three buckets.

This game was a slam-bang affair with members of both teams hitting the boards frequently. A large crowd enjoyed the two games.

BOWLING RESULTS

The Eagles increased their lead in the National league as they swept three from the Grate five on the Masonic alleys Tuesday night, while the second-place City Loan was losing two to the lowly Masons.

The Electric Furnace strengthened its third place position by winning three from the National Sanitary and the Salem News slipped into fourth place by taking three from Salem China.

Pete Bonnell of the Eagles took the honors of the night with a 213-211-201-825 and Charlie Wernet of the Electric Furnace marked up a 604, aided by one game of 225. Bill Shepard of the Eagles hit 220 in his second game, Wes Davis of Grates had a 276 and a 504 total, and Red White of the Eagles had one game of 211 and a total of 582.

The league leading Finishers stayed right at the top of the heap in the Mullins league as they took two from the Office at Grate's last night. The rest of the top contenders fared about as well or a little worse, thus leaving the standings just as they were before the matches last night.

Craig's 226 and Shepard's 211 paced the Finishers to their wins. Martin hit a 202 which didn't help the Costs escape a two game beating at the hands of the Cutters. The Press took a pair from Employment as Herron and Galchick rolled a 210 and a 212 respectively and Inspection took the same number from the Wringers. McGready fired a 225 and Charles DeCrow a 211 to pace the winners.

In other matches, the Stars shutout the Enamels, the Cabinets handed the same treatment to Production, and Tryouts took three straight from the Tubs.

Among the high scores were a 200 by E. Fisher, a 211 by Lopeman, a 208 by Mercer, a 206 and 203 by Charles Huffer and a 206 by Les Berger.

WARNS AMERICANS TO 'WORK OR FIGHT'

Drastic Legislation Is Seen
To Halt Stoppages In

who went on strike would be black-listed and their employment banned for a period of time by any plant working on a government contract.

The President's call for uninterrupted war production brought predictions in congress, meanwhile, that if the war labor board failed to find a formula to keep all of the industrial wheels turning without stop, congress would act to see that the job was done.

Senator Hill of Alabama, the Democratic whip, said he felt that some legislation might be necessary to give the board broader authority to prevent strikes.

Sees Speedy Action

Agreeing with this viewpoint, Senator Ellender (D-La.), a member of the labor committee, forecast speedy congressional action if the WLB failed to guarantee the uninterrupted production the President wanted.

This action might come, suggested Senator Taft (R-Ohio) in the form of legislation to freeze the open and closed shop status of war industries and to link wages to the cost of living. Under the latter provision, he said, wages would advance only as the cost of living rose. Taft said he believed members of the WLB would welcome establishment of such general policies.

Igorot Warriors Praised by MacArthur

Here is a group of typical Igorot warriors of the Philippines. They've become some of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's finest soldiers. In a recent bloody battle the Igorots rode on top of the American tanks, guiding them through the jungle to where they could best operate in wiping out the Twentieth Japanese Regiment. Spears which are shown in this photo have not given way to modern rifles and machine guns.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson said a large portion of the total supply would be released in the first year because storage is expensive and the facilities are needed for other purposes.

The rapid release also will help "cushion the terrible impact of the sudden stoppage of automobile production upon automobile dealers and others who derive their incomes from retail sales of automobiles," Henderson asserted.
